GREENBELT POLICE DEPARTMENT

MEDIA RELEASE

AUGUST 20, 2015

1:14 P.M.

International Overdose Awareness Day

The Greenbelt Police Department will be joining other law enforcement agencies, government entities and activist groups from around the world in recognizing and spotlighting the growing epidemic of drug overdose incidents victimizing so many people everywhere. On August 31st 2015 the Greenbelt Police Department, Greenbelt CARES and concerned citizens who have dedicated themselves to reducing these tragic occurrences will be partnering in order to raise awareness and share important information regarding this increasingly devastating situation. The fact that Maryland Governor Larry Hogan has initiated a State of Emergency, to include creating a special Statewide Task Force specifically to help address the alarming increase in heroin overdose deaths, merely underscores the true significance of this day. Unfortunately not immune to such State and National trends, Greenbelt has experienced this emergency first hand to include suffering two unrelated heroin overdose deaths not long ago.

An information desk will be set up in the Greenbelt Police Station lobby during the day and evening on August 31st with material available to all regarding recognition, intervention and treatment related to drug abuse and addiction. As an extension of this effort, citizens who have experienced the terrible results of family members struggling with drug addiction first hand along with other concerned friends and neighbors will be staffing the Greenbelt Police Public Safety Information Outreach Booth during a portion of the upcoming Greenbelt Labor Day Festival.

Please make it a point to learn about how to become more aware and potentially help to reduce the debilitating and all too often fatal results of drug abuse and addiction.

ID THEFT PREVENTION TIPS

- Do not give out personal information over the phone, through the mail, or over the Internet unless you have initiated the contact or know whom you're dealing with. Identity thieves will pose as bank representatives, Internet service providers, and even government officials to get you to reveal identifying information.
- Shred all documents, including pre-approved credit applications received in your name, insurance forms, bank checks and statements you are discarding, and other financial information.
- Do not use your mother's maiden name, your birth date, the last four digits of your social security number, or a similar series of numbers as a password for anything.
- Minimize the identification information and the number of cards you carry. Take what you'll actually need. Don't carry your social security card, birth certificate, or passport, unless necessary.
- Do not put your social security number on your checks or your credit receipts. If a business requests your social security number, give them an alternate number and explain why. If a government agency requests your social security number, there must be a privacy notice accompanying the request.
- Do not put your telephone number on checks.
- Be careful using ATMs and phone cards. Someone may look over your shoulder and get your PIN numbers, thereby gaining access to your accounts.
- Make a list of all your credit card account numbers and bank account numbers with customer service phone numbers and keep it in a safe place.
- When you order new credit cards in the mail or previous ones have expired, watch the calendar to make sure you get the card within the appropriate time. If the card is not received within that time, call the credit card grantor immediately to find out if the card has been sent. If you don't receive the card, check to make sure a change of address was not filed.
- Do not put your credit card number on the Internet unless it is encrypted on a secured site.
- Pay attention to your billing cycles. Follow up with creditors if bills don't arrive on time. A missing credit card bill could mean an identity thief has taken over your credit card account and changed your billing address.
- Cancel all credit cards that you have not used in the last six months. Open credit is a prime target.
- Order your credit report at least twice a year. Reports should be obtained from all three major sources: Equifax at 800-685-1111; Experian at 888-EXPERIAN (397-3742); or TransUnion at 800-680-7293.
- Correct all mistakes on your credit report in writing. Send the letters return receipt requested. Identify the problems item by item and send with a copy of the credit report back to the credit reporting agency. You should hear from the agency within 30 days.
- Write to Direct Marketing Association, Mail Preference Service, PO Box 9008, Farmingdale, NY 11735 to get your name off direct mail lists.
